New Year's Dinner

As in many homes on New Year's Day, my wife and I faced the annual conflict of which was more important - the football games on television, or the dinner itself. To keep peace, I ate dinner with the rest of the family, and even lingered for some pleasant after-dinner conversation before retiring to the family room to turn on the game. Several minutes later, my wife came downstairs and graciously even bought a cold drink for me. She smiled, kissed me on the cheek and asked what the score was. I told her it was the end of the third quarter and that the score was still nothing to nothing.

"See?" she said, continuing to smile, "You didn't miss a thing."

Attainable New Year's Resolutions

This year, I resolve to...

- Gain weight. At least 30 pounds.
- Read less. Makes you think.
- Watch more TV. I've been missing some good stuff.
- Procrastinate more. Starting tomorrow.
- Take a vacation to someplace important: like, to see the largest ball of twine.
- Not jump off a cliff just because everyone else did.
- Stop bringing lunch from home: I should eat out more.
- Not have eight children at once.
- Get in a whole NEW rut!
- Start being superstitious.
- Personal goal: bring back disco.
- Buy an '83 Eldorado and invest in a really loud stereo system.
- Speak in a monotone voice and only use monosyllabic words.
- Spread out priorities beyond my ability to keep track of them.
- Create loose ends.
- Get more toys.
- Not swim with pirhanas or sharks.
- Wait around for opportunity.
- Never make New Year's resolutions again.

Done right, the first time.

Mrs. Doodles Tips for Entertaining

1. When one hosts a dinner party, it is essential that all the placemats match, or, at the very least, that they all come from the same fast-food restaurant.
2. Entertaining in your backyard? The key to a nice-looking lawn is a good mower. I recommend one who's muscular and shirtless.
3. My favourite party game is "Pin the Cleanup on the Guests."
4. Nothing in the world is quite so entertaining as pouring old milk into new containers before having guests over.
5. A good host must always be a STICKLER for attractive food presentation! I always take the foil COMPLETELY off the take-out container before serving.
6. Getting your home in tiptop shape for a party can be fun if you think of it as kicking dust bunny butt!
7. Take short cuts! I used to offer my guests instant coffee. They kept whining for hot water to go with it.
8. The best way to prepare a roast is to make an aluminum foil tent over your roasting pan. Similarly, the best way to prepare for relatives is to pitch a tent in the backyard and stay there until they leave.
9. When decorating for a party, be creative with regular household items. Some people might just see a mouldy shower curtain with torn eyelets. What do I see? A new tablecloth.
10. The better you cook, the more likely your guests will return. Which is why I'm not usually too hot in the kitchen.

Class Ring

Mothers Against Drunk Driving

Close by the door he paused to stand,
as he took the class ring off her hand.
All who were watching didn't dare speak
as a silent tear ran down his cheek.

All through his mind, memories ran
of the times they laughed and walked hand in hand.
But now her eyes looked very cold;
he'd never have her again, never to hold.

All were silent as he bent down near to whisper "I love you" in her ear.
In touching her face he started to cry;
he put on his class ring and wanted to die.

And just as the wind began to blow,
they lowered her casket into the snow.
This is what happens to those alive,
when friends let friends drink and drive.

*"New Year's eve is like every other night;
there is no pause in the march of the universe, no breathless moment of silence among created things that the passage of another twelve months may be noted;
and yet no man has quite the same thoughts this evening that come with the coming of darkness on other nights."
