Grandma’s First Time in the Hospital

Grandma had never been sick in her life, so she didn’t take it kindly when a bad case of the flu sent her to the hospital for observation.

By the time she was tucked into bed, she had managed to complain about everything: the temperature, the lights, the skimpy gown, the food and the mattress - especially, the mattress.

Suddenly, she spotted a small plastic item with a button, attached to a cord. “What’s that?” she demanded with great suspicion.

“If you need anything in the middle of the night,” said the nurse, “just press that button. It will turn on a light in the hall for the nurse on duty”

“A light in the hall?” responded Grandma. “I’m the sick one around here. If the nurse needs a light on in the hall, she can get up and switch it on herself.”

Handy Tip

To Reheat Pizza:

Heat up leftover pizza in a nonstick skillet on top of the stove, set heat to med-low and heat till warm.

This keeps the crust crispy. No soggy micro pizza!

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Airdrie Public library is hosting the Airdrie Artist Guild Centennial Exhibition, Sat. Aug. 29th from 11.00 to 4:00. There will be an art exhibition with refreshments, prizes and demonstrations. The Guild wanted to do something special for Airdrie's 100th birthday through an Art Auction fundraiser of beautiful original paintings which were donated by members of the Airdrie Artist Guild. They hope to develop an Art enrichment program for the seniors of Airdrie. The program will provide an innovative, fun and creative opportunity to enhance physical and artistic awareness for seniors. The event is open to the public on Sat Aug 29th with the paintings on display for viewing at the Airdrie Public Library. Afterwards, they will be on display and up for auction at the Airdrie City Hall from Sept. 1st through the 14th. For information, contact Char Vanderhorst at 403-948-4301 or Tami Hort at 403 668-4118.

WHEN A SOLDIER COMES HOME

When a soldier comes home, he finds it hard ...

... to listen to his son whine about being bored

... to keep a straight face when people complain about potholes.

... to be tolerant of people who complain about the hassle of getting ready for work

... to be understanding when a co-worker complains about a bad night's sleep

... to be silent when people pray to God for a new car

... to control his panic when his wife tells him he needs to drive slower

... to be compassionate when a businessman expresses a fear of flying

... to keep from laughing when anxious parents say they're afraid to send their kids off to summer camp

... to keep from ridiculing someone who complains about hot weather

... to control his frustration when a colleague gripes about his coffee being cold.

... to remain calm when his daughter complains about having to walk the dog

... to be civil to people who complain about their jobs

... to just walk away when someone says they only get two weeks of vacation a year.

... to be forgiving when someone says how hard it is to have a new baby in the house

The only thing harder than being a Soldier..
Is loving one ...

Married All These Years

John brought his new colleague, Peter, home for dinner. As they arrived at the door his wife rushed up, threw her arms around John and kissed him passionately.

"My goodness," said Peter, "and how long have you been married?"

"22 years," replied John.

"You must have a fantastic marriage if your wife greets you like that after all those years."

"Don't be fooled! She only does it to make the dog jealous."

A Misunderstanding

A generously endowed young lady at college often got teased by her sorority sisters for being so top-heavy.

At a fraternity party, a young man asked her what she would like to drink.

"Diet soda, please," she replied.

"Oh, you must be the double D." he said.

The girl was furious, wondering which of her so-called friends had divulged such personal information. "And just what do you mean by that?" she snapped.

Surprised at her angry response, the young man meekly answered, "Oh, you know -- the Designated Driver."
